MUDDLE IN MANILA COURTS.

Juage J. B. Early, who spent some time in Hawaii before starting out to practice law in the Philippines, returnea to San Francisco December 24 on the transport Valencia. The Judge is not very favorably impressed with the present conducted.

"There must be a reorganization of the courts before Americans will have any confidence in the island judiciary," said Judge Early. "The judges are Fili-pinos and they adjudicate along the lines of the old Spanish laws, which do not even permit a jury. There are but two American Judges, and they do not have enough power. Of course there is an appellate court, but that, too, is composed of Filipino Judges, who know but little of the letter or the spirit of American law. Until the courts are placed under the jurisdiction of American law Americans will never settle to any great ex-tent in Manila. At present there is the worst kind of a jumble prevailing. Spanish is the language of the courts, and all my business had to be transacted through an interpreter. It appears to me that the first and most important matter requiring adjustment is the island judiciary. Until there is a clearly defined jurisprudence established along the lines of American law it will be absurd to suppose that capital in any great quantity will invest in the isl-

"The war seems to be going along the same as ever. Sometimes the advantage appears to be on one side and sometimes on the other. Some of the little towns down there have been captured by the Americans as many as eight times, and this fact alone will convey an idea of the vacillating na-ture of the fortunes of the Philippine

CHINESE AND MEXICO.

Washington, Dec. 26.-The negotiations which have been in progress some time for a general treaty of trade, navigation and immigration have been brought to a successsful conclusion here and the formal signing of the document took place today at the Mexican Embassy, Senor Aspiroz, the slexican Embassador, signing for his country and Minister Wu Ting Fang for China. The ceremony was witnessed by the staffs of the Mexican Embassy and the Chinese legation, and was followed by hearty felicitations on both sides, as this is the first treaty ever entered into between the countries Three copies of the instrument were executed, one in Chinese, one in Span-ish and a third in English. This is a departure in diplomatic usages, as the extra copy is usually in French, that being the recognized language of diplomacy. In this case, however, it was determined that English should be the official text for determining any differ ences of construction between the other

The main feature of the treaty is the The main reature of the treaty is the establishing of relations between China and Mexico, thus giving promise of the development of trade relations between them. Each side is given favored nation treatment in the matter as is now enjoyed by other first-class powers. Immigration of the citizens of the two countries is left unhampered and under this provision it is expected that the latent resources of Mexico wil signed copies of the treaty have now been forwarded to China and Mexico for ratification.
